Taung Mall

19 – 20th March 2013

A series of workshops to involve the community in art for the Mall, and to give back to the community in terms of skills, have been run by veteran workshop host and Grammy winner Robin Hogarth.

Workshops

Taung Mall

The workshops included the learners producing mural sections of a lion (Taung meaning 'place of the lion'), which is on the exterior of theMall, as well as artworks for their own use, using artists and skills from Art Afrique (Carol Hogarth).

Presentations of materials was made to Paramount Chief Tshepo Frederik Mankuroane, who lends his name to one of the schools. We were graced with the Chief's presence during the workshops... Who loved and enjoyed seeing the children creating.
